

Synopsis for “Discovering your kid personality – Parenting DISC profiling”
(KL-P2-2016S)

Our personalities effect how we behave and of course how we as parent. Each child has their own personality too, sometimes parent and child personality might clash or might complement each other. This workshops will help you to discover your personality (parenting styles) and also recognized your child personality. You will learn how you can make personalities work for you and strengthen your relationship with your child.